to Mark, me

Ralph and Mark,

I am not exactly sure what is going on, but the fellowship grants are comple those referenced in the MOU. I do not think that there is anything in the MO fellowships at all. The reference to an Undergraduate Political Economy Cor "plans to obtain future funding" with the Koch foundation is in regard to fund associated with the MOU and in particular, as I recall, funding for the underc program discussed in the MOU. Given subsequent events, no other funding been obtain from the Koch foundation, and while an Undergraduate Political was initially conceived and discussed it was never formally constituted beca movement to get additional funding from the Koch foundation on those issue the undergraduate program which was initiated by individuals affiliated with parts of the program that are still in place, the economics club and the Certif Markets and Institutions, were absorbed by the department and do not get a fact, the certificate program was set up by the departments undergraduate p undergraduate committee, not by a separate SPEFE-EEE associated Undergr. Economy Committee. Furthermore, my understanding is that economic club now appointed through the department chair in colaboration with the club its the original undergraduate program, the readings group seminars, were fun a different source, nby Kock, but that funding was not renewed, so that part longer operating. More importantly, however, none of this has anything to c grants for PhD students. Proposals requesting those grants are written ever not subject to conditions specified in the MOU. These are grants directly to t the SPEFE-EEE programs.
